Welcome to Rapid Response
Home Visiting!

Designed by the field, for the field.

Rapid Response Home Visiting provides resources for home visiting professionals to address emerging issues and the collective needs of the field.

Originally developed to address social distancing measures and the increased isolation of families during the pandemic, the project has evolved to provide innovative and timely response to immediate and emerging needs of home visiting professionals while continuing to offer resources to support effective virtual home visiting practices.

The screenshot shows the homepage of the Rapid Response Home Visiting website. At the top, there are navigation links: Home, About Us, Training, Pathways, Webinars, Resources, and a Contact Us button. The main header features the Institute for the Advancement of Family Support Professionals logo and the Rapid Response Home Visiting logo. Below the header is a large image of a smiling woman wearing a headset, working on a laptop. A white callout box on the left of the image says "Welcome to Rapid Response Home Visiting!". To the right of the image are several colorful, wavy lines in purple, red, orange, and green. Below the image is a purple section with the heading "Designed by the field, for the field." and three paragraphs of text. The first paragraph states that Rapid Response Home Visiting provides resources for home visiting professionals. The second paragraph explains that the project was originally developed to address social distancing measures and has evolved to provide innovative and timely response to immediate and emerging needs. The third paragraph lists the collaborative leadership by the National Model Alliance for Home Visiting, the Institute for the Advancement of Family Support Professionals, and the Parents as Teachers National Center. A "Learn More" button is located at the bottom of this section. At the bottom of the page, there are three small images: a baby, a woman on a laptop, and a woman holding a baby. The first image has the text "Check out our NEW Home Visitor Webinars" and the website URL. The second image has the text "hola! Disponible en Español". The third image has the text "Modules now available in Spanish!". The Rapid Response Home Visiting logo is in the bottom right corner.

Rapid Response Home Visiting
The Learning Pathway

In partnership with the Healthy Start TA & Support Center at NICHQ, Rapid Response Home Visiting is pleased to present the Virtual Home Visiting Learning Pathways.

These 17 paths are designed to equip learners with knowledge and strategies to implement virtual home visiting services. Each path consists of a variety of modules, webinars, and resources, and takes between 4-8 hours to complete. For each pathway completed, learners will earn a Virtual Home Visiting Digital Badge.

Earn Your Virtual Home Visiting Digital Badge!

This badge represents the attainment of key knowledge and strategies needed to implement virtual home visiting services. Digital badges are an online representation of skills gained. Like badges sewn onto clothing, they represent skills earned. Each badge is unique to the user who earned it and can be verified by any organization.

Rapid Response Resources

Virtual Vitality Practices: These resources are 16 practices that provide focusing, grounding, and calming practices.

IAFSP Virtual Home Visiting: Supervisor's Toolkit: This resource provides information for supervisors about providing home visiting services virtually. Learners will find reflections, tips, guidance, and inspiration alongside tools such as decision trees, templates, and questionnaires to support learners in exploring and strengthening the use of virtual home visiting services.

Supporting Rural, Frontier, and Tribal Home Visiting: In this video you will hear from professionals across the United States how they are supporting families in rural, frontier, and tribal home visiting. In the attached resource document you will find a list of strategies to consider in your work supporting families through the lens of the Strengthening Families Protective Factor Framework.

Rural Home Visiting Resource Guide: This guide is the result of the contributions of home visiting models and programs across the United States during a time of great need. The COVID-19 pandemic has not only put vulnerable families under even more stress, but it is also impacting family support professionals, their families, and their communities. Trying to serve vulnerable families while dealing with their pressures has called on the resilience of family support professionals to adapt their practice to a new, virtual environment.
